The 10th Canadian Parrot Symposium (West) takes place May 18 to 20, 2007 at Dunsmuir Lodge, Sidney, BC.

The symposium takes place at Dunsmuir Lodge, a bed and breakfast known for its picturesque setting with stunning views of islands, mountains and ocean. Speakers from England, the United States and Canada will present topics ranging from bird behavior, nutrition, health and breeding to conservation and research. Melissa Kauffman – Editor of BIRD TALK Magazine – is a featured speaker.

Fun filled events include a hospitality event on Friday to start off the Symposium, and a parrot-themed auction and a raffle over the weekend.

Rolf C. Hagen and BIRD TALK magazine are co-sponsors of this year's Symposium.
