

Safe Restraint

Practice safe avian restraint and proper grooming.

By Marshall Liger, LVT, CAS

It is inevitable that every bird in captivity will, at some point, have to be restrained for one reason. Every bird owner should be comfortable restraining their bird for a range of purposes. For the full article, pick up the 2010 issue of Birds USA or click here to buy the issue.