

The BirdChannel Newswire - November 5, 2008

Stay up-to-date with the latest bird news from all around the world.

Posted: November 5, 2008, 12:30 p.m. EDT

Eight Parrots Stolen From Parrot Society Founder

A founding member of the Connecticut Parrot Society says eight of her African Grey parrots were stolen, reports the Hartford Courant. Read More>>

A Doctor Writes A Book About Her 30 Year Relationship With Her African Grey

The book discusses the birds extraordinary intelligence and the loving relationship between the two, reports USA Today. Read More>>

A Doctor Warns Against Getting Too Friendly With Wild Parrots

Psittacosis, a type of pneumonia, can be passed to people through dried bird droppings, reports Star News Group. Read More>>

Concern For Blue And Green Macaw

A woman notices a parrot that didn't belong to the Wild Animal Park and hopes its owner finds it before winter hits, reports North-west Evening Mail. Read More>>