

National Association of Professional Pet Sitters (NAPPS) Seeks Nominations For 2010 Pet Sitting Business of the Year Award

NAPPS will present the award to pet-sitting business that have demonstrated outstanding business practices.

Posted: August 12, 2009, 8:00 p.m EDT

Pet owners can nominate their pet sitter for the 2010 National Association of Professional Pet Sitters (NAPPS) Pet Sitting Business of the Year Award simply by completing a nomination form through the NAPPS website at www.petsitters.org. This award is presented annually to a NAPPS member who has demonstrated outstanding business practices and vision in maintaining and growing their business. Nominations will be accepted through September 1, 2009.

Once nominated, NAPPS will contact the pet sitting business to complete a comprehensive application and answer specific questions regarding what distinguishes their business as superior in the industry. The NAPPS Pet Sitting Business of the Year Selection Committee will determine the winner.

The 2010 NAPPS Business of the Year winner will receive complimentary attendance at 2010 NAPPS Annual Conference, inclusive of registration, lodging, and transportation among other benefits. Past winners include: Terrapin Pets in Beltsville, Maryland (2009); The Purrfect Nanny in Atlanta, Georgia (2008); Bella's House & Pet Sitting in Scottsdale, Arizona. (2007).

For more information on NAPPS, contact the national headquarters at 15000 Commerce Parkway, Suite C, Mt. Laurel, N.J. 08054; Phone: 856-439-0324; Fax: 856-439-0525; Email: napps@ahint.com or go to www.petsitters.org.