The 59th Annual National Cage Bird Show (NCBS) was held at the Holiday Inn Denver International Airport hotel in Denver, Colorado.

As the largest U.S. bird show, NCBS has categories for nearly every type of canary and finch, as well parrots and softbills. Judges fly in from around the world, and bird breeders whose birds receive a spot on the top bench receive bragging rights and heightened interest in their stock. Click image to enlarge

Yelena Roslaya won the first poster contest. Her design was featured on the official National Cage Bird Show Poster.

Higgins Premium Pet Foods sponsors the event, which included the first youth poster contest. Fifteen-year-old Yelena Roslaya designed the winning image that was displayed on this year's NCBS poster.

Each division winner receives a Higgins' trophy and a cash award. Higgins has been involved with NCBS for nearly three decades and its main sponsor since 2002.
