

10th Annual Avicultural Convention In Australia

All Australian national conventions are held under the auspices of the AFA and delegated to the relevant state affiliate to plan and organize.

3-2-2004

By Ian Hinze

Amazon husbandry in Australia to African waxbills, parrotfinches, exotic parrots, endangered Australian finches in Australian aviculture, cockatoos, weavers, habitat aviaries will be discussed at the 10th National Avicultural Convention hosted by the United Bird Societies of South Australia (UBSSA). The event will be held May 4 through 6, 2001 in Adelaide, South Australia. UBSSA is the state affiliate of the Avicultural Federation of Australia (AFA). All Australian national conventions are held under the auspices of the AFA and delegated to the relevant state affiliate to plan and organize. For more information, contact UBSSA at www.unitedbirds.asn.au.